Stoughton, Wisconsin -- The Yahara River Cooperative Grocery Exploratory Group (YRCG) is holding a community meeting on Thursday, November 16, 2006 from 6:00 – 8:00pm at the Stoughton Area Senior Center, 248 W. Main Street, in Stoughton.

The purpose of the meeting is to inform interested community members about the workings and benefits of a cooperative grocery, to discuss the status of the Yahara River Cooperative Grocery initiative, to provide results from the community survey and get feedback on these results, to answer questions people may have about the cooperative and the initiative in specific, and to involve all interested community members in the development of this store by hearing all points of view and through direct involvement on the various committees of the Yahara River Cooperative Grocery exploratory group.

All interested community members are welcome.
